INTRODUCTION TO THE MAJOR

The Ancient Greek and Roman Studies (AGRS) major is an opportunity to explore Mediterranean antiquity in the company of a diverse cohort of undergraduates. AGRS professors are renowned for innovative scholarship and dedication to undergraduate teaching. Students explore multiple disciplines within the ancient Mediterranean world including archaeology, literature, philosophy, and many more. The major can be completed in English or include the study of Greek and/or Latin language. Students develop their own personalized program of study in close consultation with our advising team.

AMPLIFY YOUR MAJOR

• Participate in archaeological field work with an AGRS professor.
• Learn research techniques by assisting a professor through a URAP position.
• Achieve a broader perspective on AGRS through study abroad.
• Expand your knowledge of an AGRS subject by pursuing honors in the major.
• Publish your work in the Berkeley Undergraduate Journal of Classics.

THE AGRS COMMUNITY

Being a part of AGRS is to be connected with a community at Berkeley and beyond:

• AGRS hosts gatherings and lectures.
• Our student club, The Classical Forum, connects students from multiple majors.
• Our advising team includes a professional advisor and two faculty advisors. Students have support in course planning, student life, career exploration, and navigating the university.
• Get to know our graduate students who lead discussion sections and teach some language courses. Learn directly about graduate education.

HOW TO USE THIS MAP

Use this map to help plan and guide your experience at UC Berkeley, including academic, co-curricular, and discovery opportunities. Everyone’s Berkeley experience is different and activities in this map are suggestions. Always consult with your advisors whenever possible for new opportunities and updates.

CONNECT WITH US

Cal Day
Come to Berkeley’s annual Open House in April. AGRS hosts an information table with current students and faculty. There is an AGRS presentation as well.

Golden Bear Orientation
Join your peers in the campus-wide UC Berkeley orientation program for all new students. Attend an AGRS event to explore the major.

Events
AGRS has special events and lectures throughout the year. Check out classics.berkeley.edu and sign up for our mailing list to be notified.
