

Photo credit: Nicole Koch

CONNECT WITH US

Cal Day

Come to Berkeley's annual Open House in April for information sessions, campus tours, special talks, and more.

Golden Bear Orientation

Join your peers in the campus-wide UC Berkeley orientation program for all new students.

Events

Attend department events with students, staff, and faculty. Visit ced.berkeley.edu/academics/architecture for news and updates.

ADVISING

Drop-in Architecture Undergraduate Advising is available at the CED Office of Undergraduate Advising at 250 Wurster Hall.

Advising Drop-In Hours:

Monday-Friday 10-12, 1-4pm

Call (510) 642-4943, or visit ced.berkeley.edu/students/undergraduate-advising for more information or advising questions.

HOW TO USE THIS MAP

Use this map to help plan and guide your experience at UC Berkeley, including academic, co-curricular, and discovery opportunities. Everyone's Berkeley experience is different and activities in this map are suggestions. Always consult with your advisors whenever possible for new opportunities and updates.

Visit vcue.berkeley.edu/majormaps for the latest version of this major map.

Berkeley

CED Office of Undergraduate Advising

250 Wurster Hall
Berkeley, CA 94720-1800

ced.berkeley.edu/students/undergraduate-advising

ARCHITECTURE

Bachelor of Arts

Berkeley
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

INTRODUCTION TO THE MAJOR

The Architecture major seeks to familiarize students with the production of the built environment in historical, critical, technical, and social dimensions. The courses develop a broad and critical thinking of conceptual and methodological understanding and technical skills of the planning and design of buildings, cities, environments, across a wide range of scales.

The program comprises a rigorous approach to the discipline of architecture within a liberal arts education. Architectural design, history, theory, and technology is established addressing fundamental challenges of the XXI century engaging in architectural frontiers in:

- Nature, Built Environments & Ethics
- Equity, Justice, & Design Activism
- Fabrication, Materials, & Technology
- Critical History

Photo credit: E. O'Mara

“ Berkeley Architecture was founded on strong principles of multidisciplinary collaboration and respect for experimentation. ”

– Renee Chow, Chair of Architecture

FRAMEWORK

Scholarship is fostered through courses and campus-wide seminars and activities that contribute to the architect's knowledge and vision within a liberal arts framework. In preparation for a fluid and evolving contemporary design practice and scholarship students explore new frontiers in theory, prototyping, simulation, and architectural representation. The breadth of subjects capitalizes in the long tradition of environmental design of CED.

Students are encouraged to explore the potentials and responsibilities of design and ecosystems as a cohesive physical and social dimension across multiple research platforms and instruments rigorously prepared to engage in future work and academia.

AMPLIFY YOUR MAJOR

- Pursue either the Research Track or the Studio Track.
- Apply to the Design & Innovation for Sustainable Cities (DISC) program to develop creative solutions to the urgent challenges facing global cities today.
- Consider following a Course Thread, such as Human-Centered Design or Historical and Modern City.
- Explore Berkeley Art + Design programs.

ARCHITECTURE

Bachelor of Arts

DESIGN YOUR JOURNEY

	FIRST YEAR	SECOND YEAR	THIRD YEAR	FOURTH YEAR	WHAT CAN I DO WITH MY MAJOR?
Explore your major	Review major and college requirements. Meet an advisor to discuss a 4-year plan of study. Take ENV DES 1 as an introduction to the college. Consider LDARCH 1 to develop visual thinking. Sit in on public studio reviews. Complete at least one of CED's "big ideas" courses, ENV DES 4A, 4B, and 4C.	Take ARCH 11A and ARCH 11B as introductions to architecture studios. Finish the ENV DES 4 series. Finish your lower division requirements and start upper division coursework. Explore CED summer programs and certificates.	Think about Research vs. Studio track. This Spring, choose the one that is right for you. Choose between ARCH 130 or 110AC and between ARCH 140 or ARCH 160—only Studio track seniors need both. Apply for CED Honors, if eligible.	Prior to enrolling this Fall, choose your track. Studio Track: Choose studios based on interest in the subject matter or instructor. Research Track: Choose classes outside of CED that will help support and define your thesis.	Jobs and Employers <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Architect, Studio Subtractive Architectural Intern, Field Paoli Arch. Associate Architect, WJE Associates Business Developer Designer, CAW Architects Designer/Drafter, MBH Architects Field Engineer, Hensel Phelps Higher Education Lecturer Junior Architect, Design Draw Build Junior Architect, Hart Howerton Junior Designer, BDE Architecture Jr. Designer, Butler Armsden Arch. Project Engineer, Swinerton Builders Researcher Graduate Programs <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Architecture Education Graphic Design Examples gathered from the First Destination Survey of recent Berkeley graduates.
Connect and build community	Use the CED Advising blog to stay updated on CED news, events, workshops and job opportunities. Get involved with student organizations inside and beyond CED. Attend Calpalooza or CED's WursterFest to learn more about these clubs.	Join the CED Undergraduate Student Council and CED Admissions Ambassadors to represent the Architecture undergraduate student body within the College and with prospective students. Go to office hours to build connections with faculty and graduate student instructors.	Meet with instructors to learn about the field and build your network. Prioritize your mental health. Visit CED's in-house counselor. Attend workshops and events at the Jacobs Institute for Design Innovation or Berkeley Arts + Design.	Register with Wurster Life to stay connected with classmates and instructors, especially as you prepare for graduation. Become a Golden Bear Orientation Leader and welcome new students to the UC Berkeley campus community.
Discover your passions	Connect with your interests outside of architecture with ENV DES 4 classes. Attend CED lectures featuring visiting architects and professionals. Map your skills and talents to career goals with the help of the Career Counseling Library.	Follow a Course Thread of your interest. Consider getting a Global Urban Humanities certificate. Look into pursuing a complementary minor within CED and related colleges. Explore the possibility of a summer minor.	Use the research resources provided to CED students. Get involved with one of the research centers in Wurster Hall. Apply for a fellowship to fund your own independent research. Familiarize yourself with CED Prizes + Awards and apply by deadlines.	Enroll in non-major courses on your bucket list. Develop your own research through the Design Research track. Choose a project that addresses a building typology or drawing style that interests you with Studio track.
Engage locally and globally	Explore volunteer opportunities on campus. Engage in community service through the Public Service Center. Ask an advisor as early as possible about CED-specific summer study abroad opportunities this year.	Think about studying abroad as a sophomore, either in the spring or summer. The major handbook provides a plan for how to modify your schedule to accommodate study abroad. Get involved with the ASUC, LEAD Center, or Golden Bear Orientation.	As you start your own studios, visit the CED online gallery to see what other students have done before. Think of upper division CED courses outside of Architecture that pique your interest. You must choose three to meet graduation requirements.	Pick a studio or research course that solves an issue in a community with which you are connected. Pursue fellowships as an option after Berkeley. Explore gap year opportunities that you may wish to pursue before your next big adventure.
Reflect and plan your future	Use the Yearly Planner to help guide your career path. Learn about the role architects play in the design industry and different fields you can explore. Take advantage of CED-specific Career Services and Architecture Career website and Resources.	Connect with Berkeley and CED alumni. Join Handshake and Wurster Life, CED's mini version of LinkedIn. Meet with a CED Career Counselor for tips and support. Attend internship fairs and take CED-sponsored courses for your internship search.	Sign up for weekly CED CareerMail emails with opportunities for Architecture majors. Compile relevant studio and portfolio work samples for your job applications. Explore post-graduation options at career and graduate school fairs.	Attend the CED Career Fair and other events. Ask other students, career counselors, and instructors to review your portfolio. Learn more about the licensure process (accreditation) in different states. Utilize job search tools from the Career Center.	