INTRODUCTION TO THE MAJOR

Linguistics is the scientific study of language. Linguists seek to understand the use, structure, and meaning of language by investigating languages from around the world, how languages change over time, and the relationship of language to society and cognition. Linguistics is interdisciplinary, drawing on and contributing to work in anthropology, philosophy, psychology, and computer science. Through a strong tradition of research collaboration, linguists at Berkeley conduct cutting-edge research on language, deepening and enriching our understanding of this unique human trait.

AMPLIFY YOUR MAJOR

• Join a student organization such as the Society of Linguistics Undergraduate Students (SLUgS).
• Work directly with a graduate student on research through the Linguistics Research Apprentice Practicum.
• Visit the California Language Archive, a catalog of indigenous language materials.
• Participate in the Linguistic Society of America (LSA) Linguistic Institute.

THE MAJOR CURRICULUM

Students in linguistics benefit from an intense, personalized academic experience through smaller classes and ample opportunities to work with faculty and graduate students on research projects. The four main components of the major are: 1) The Lower Division Requirement, 2) The Prerequisite to Declare, 3) The Binned Courses Requirement, and 4) The Upper Division Electives Requirement.

The foundational course is LINGUIS 100 (“Introduction to Linguistic Science”), a general survey of linguistics. Students then take upper division courses which focus on different aspects of language.

HOW TO USE THIS MAP

Use this map to help plan and guide your experience at UC Berkeley, including academic, co-curricular, and discovery opportunities. Everyone’s Berkeley experience is different and activities in this map are suggestions. Always consult with your advisors whenever possible for new opportunities and updates.

Visit ue.berkeley.edu/majormaps for the latest version of this major map.

CONNECT WITH US

Cal Day
Come to UC Berkeley’s annual Open House in April for information sessions, campus tours, special talks, and more.

Golden Bear Orientation

<td>Explore your major</td>
<td>Enroll in LINGUIS 100, the only prerequisite to declare the major. After completing LINGUIS 100 declare the major by submitting your Major Declaration Petition. Review major guidelines for study abroad and explore related programs. Consider participating in the Linguistics Enrichment Experience Program (LEEP).</td>
<td>Continue taking the major’s Upper Division Course Bins requirements and start approved upper division electives. Review your degree progress with your major and college advisor. Participate in research activities like Linguistics Research Apprentice Practicum (LRAP). Ask the major advisor about the Linguistics Honors.</td>
<td>Do a degree check to ensure you are on track to graduate. Complete any “bucket list” courses and remaining major, college, and campus requirements.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Connect and build community</td>
<td>Get 1:1 mentoring with Berkeley Connect and L&amp;S Mentors Program. Find study groups, tutoring, and academic support at the Student Learning Center. Join a student organization such as the Society of Linguistics Undergraduate Students (SLUgS).</td>
<td>Home in on your interests through a group or forum like the Fieldwork Forum or the Syntax &amp; Semantics Circle. Explore resources offered by the Berkeley Language Center and look for upcoming lectures of interest. Attend OP Fest to hear from graduate students about their individual research projects firsthand.</td>
<td>Join a professional association such as the Linguistic Society of America (LSA) or American Association for Applied Linguistics (AAAA). Connect with alumni groups such as the Linguistics Alumni group and build your network as you prepare to graduate.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Discover your passions</td>
<td>Discover new interests in a Freshman Seminar such as LINGUIS 24, L&amp;S 1, or a student-run DeCal course. Attend the Undergraduate Research and Scholarship Fair in October. Learn about research taking place in the Linguistics department.</td>
<td>Continue with a Sophomore Seminar, Big Ideas Course or Discovery Course. Work directly with a graduate student on research through the Linguistics Research Apprentice Practicum (LRAP). Assist faculty and graduate students in their research through URAP and SURF.SMART.</td>
<td>Teach your own DeCal course. Undertake an optional honors thesis or independent study and submit your work to the Berkeley Undergraduate Journal. Keep pursuing your interests through a fellowship or gap year after graduation.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Engage locally and globally</td>
<td>Attend the Calapalooza student activities fair and get involved with a student organization. Explore study, internship, and research abroad options with Berkeley Study Abroad. Work with a community organization in an American Cultures Engaged Scholarship course. Consider a Berkeley Global Internship in the United States or abroad. Find service opportunities through the Public Service Center.</td>
<td>Continue to work directly with a graduate student on research through the Linguistics Research Apprentice Practicum (LRAP). Planning a senior thesis or project? Apply to the Haas Scholars Program or SURF. Enrich your studies with a certificate, course thread, or summer minor.</td>
<td>Hone your leadership skills with the Peter E. Haas Public Service Leaders program. Interested in a public service career? Apply for the John Gardner Fellowship. Explore service opportunities after graduation, such as Peace Corps or the Japan Exchange and Teaching Program.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reflect and plan your future</td>
<td>Visit the Career Center and Career Counseling Library. Check out the Career Center Yearly Planner. Sign up for Handshake and CareerMail. Explore career fields in the Career Connections Networking Series or a winter externship. Reflect on your education so far and skills and experience you still wish to build. Meet with a Career Center counselor to discuss your career options and goals. Think about doing an internship and attend an Internship Fair. Learn about graduate and professional school. See Step-by-Step for planning help.</td>
<td>Update your resume and LinkedIn profile. Discuss post-graduate options with advisors and professors. Attend career and graduate school fairs. Ask professors and graduate student instructors for recommendation letters.</td>
<td>Explore career and graduate school resources on the Linguistics department website. Meet employers at Employer Info Sessions and On-Campus Recruiting. Stay updated on career events offered by student organizations like SLUgS Berkeley. Apply to jobs, graduate school, and other opportunities.</td>
